- ❖ Bruno Greber is originally from Switzerland, and trained extensively in Europe with several Dressage Masters. After graduating from the Swiss Master-Instructor Program, Bruno was a Co-Trainer for Arthur Kottas, at his private barn in Austria. Bruno conducts dressage clinics worldwide. Since 2003, Bruno has been the Instructor/Trainer for Ashanti Farm Inc. in Gordonsville, VA.
- ❖ Susan Graham White is an FEI dressage rider, and has been teaching and training dressage for 25 years. She currently shows several horses at the national and FEI levels, and she has earned her bronze and silver medals from USDF. Susan is a licensed FEI eventing judge, and a USEF dressage and eventing judge. She owns Wolfhaven Farm, in southern MD, and maintains a full schedule of training, teaching and officiating.
- ❖ Wendy Murdoch is a rider biomechanics specialist and certified Feldenkrais Practitioner®, with intensive training in Centered Riding and Ttouch/TTEAM. The Murdoch Method is a comprehensive system of learning that is applied in a holistic way to both horse and rider, of any discipline. Wendy has teamed with Bruno Greber to present clinics and demonstrations of Murdoch Method principles applied to classical dressage.
