Welcome to Morven Park

LETTER FROM STACEY METCALFE, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Morven Park has hosted recognized Horse Trials since 1973, when the event was under the direction of cavalry master Major John Lynch and the Morven Park International Equestrian Institute. Today, we are proud to continue this legacy and host the Morven Park International & Fall Horse Trials. As one of only six venues in the United States to hold a CCI4*-L competition, we invite competitors and spectators to enjoy the exciting, multi-phase discipline of eventing at all levels.

We are exceptionally proud of all of our equestrian events, but our crown jewel continues to be our Morven Park International & Fall Horse Trials. Our beautiful course challenges the best of the best, and our CCIYH2*-S and CCIYH3*-S divisions and the U25 awards serve to promote the next generation of eventing talent.

All our events support the Westmoreland Davis Memorial Foundation, that provides funding for Morven Park. The Park's 1,000 acres of open space are an important community resource, and a portion of each entry supports grounds and facilities maintenance and future equestrian events.

We are so excited you are here to share in our 50th year of eventing and the ongoing evolution of the Morven Park International Equestrian Center. Our goal is to provide the best facilities and experiences for horses and riders across all equestrian disciplines, and we hope you love the improvements that we continue to make to better serve our equestrian community.

Whether you visit, volunteer, compete, become a member, or support us with a donation, we are so happy you're here, and we hope you enjoy everything this remarkable place has to offer.

Have a great ride!

Spectator Guide

Have you ever wondered what would happen if a triathlon involved more moving parts? Welcome to the sport of eventing!

Like a triathlon, eventing (also called Horse Trials) features three different equestrian disciplines—dressage, show jumping, and cross-country. Each phase demonstrates the grace, bravery, and athleticism of the horse/rider combo, fully embracing the definition of a well-rounded athlete.

DRESSAGE

During the dressage test, horse and rider demonstrate their level of communication, relaxation, and harmony through a series of intricate movements.

Best vantage point: Anywhere outside the arena fence and away from the arena entrance.

Spectator tips: Horse and rider are in a state of concentration, so it is important to avoid distracting them. Please hold your applause until the rider makes a final halt and salutes the judge.

SHOW JUMPING

Over a course of 12–15 jumps that can easily be knocked down, horse and rider showcase their ability to think quickly on their feet. Horses may touch a rail without penalty, but if the rail falls, or if the horse refuses to jump, the rider receives four penalties per issue.

Best vantage point: Anywhere outside the arena fence and away from the arena entrance.

Spectator tips: Horse and rider are in a state of concentration, so please hold your applause until you see them cross the finish line.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Horses and riders put on their cross-country gear and test their bravery and athleticism over terrain featuring logs, ditches, embankments, and water obstacles. Depending on the level of competition, course lengths range from 2 to 4.5 miles, and are ridden at a gallop, with exact speed requirements for each level.

Best vantage point: Outside of the galloping tracks, there are jump judges and stewards throughout the course, and they'll gladly direct you to the safest spots for ideal viewing.

Spectator tips: Water jumps are very popular to watch, and oftentimes you are able to see several additional obstacles from the same viewing area.

It's safest to enter the cross-country course at the beginning of the competition or during breaks between different levels of competition. Listen for the announcer to indicate those breaks.

WHILE ON COURSE

- Please be careful not to provide unauthorized assistance to horses and riders on course as you may unwittingly cause their elimination.
- Unauthorized assistance: Giving directions, letting them know they've missed an obstacle, etc.
- Permitted assistance: Catching a loose horse, helping a rider remount after a fall, and handing a rider any part of their equipment while mounted or dismounted.
- Please watch out for groundhog holes! We have attempted to flag and fill them on and near the track of the cross-country course, the dressage arena, the show jumping arenas, and the designated warm-up arenas. However, these holes can reappear within hours of being filled and remain a hazard to riders and spectators alike. We cannot be held responsible for areas off the track of the course. Anyone spotting an unflagged hazard is requested to immediately advise an official.

AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST...

Dogs must be on a leash and attached to a person or an immovable object at all times. This is a USEF rule (GR 301.6) and failure to comply can result in penalties or elimination from the competition.

- Officials and jump judges have full authority, so please respect their requests.
- Horses and riders on course have the right-of-way, and the galloping track and the area around all marked obstacles must be kept clear at all times.
- The USEA rule pertaining to motorized vehicles on the cross-country course will be strictly enforced. Only official vehicles will be permitted.
- The Organizing Committee, the USEF, the Westmoreland Davis Memorial Foundation, and the Morven Park International Equestrian Center do not accept any liability for any accident, injury, theft or illness to horses, riders, owners, attendants, spectators, or any person or property whatsoever.
